Clerks and the Jubilee. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

The coming peace jubilee promises to be more than a success, and every inhabitant of Washington hopes to see it so in every respect. As a resident and well-wisher beg to ask through the columns of your estimable paper what the retail clerks of our city are to expect as to hours during the celebration? Are we to have an opportunity to see the various parades, etc., or are we to work not only our regular nine hours or more, but work at night, in order to compensate our employers for "contributions" given the committee? We who work practically from sunrise to sunset wish to see the various pageants as well as our more fortunate brethren who have shorter hours and all day every holiday. Cannot some movement be inaugurated which will enable us to participate in a celebration in which as Americans we are

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL GUARD BRIGADE BAND CONCERT.-This evening, at the Biller Hall, the Brigade Band will give its closing concert of the season, under the direction of Lieut. Donald B. MacLeod, conductor. No more melodious or tuneful selections have ever been brought together upon one program than the numbers that are to be presented. Suppe's overture, "Banditen-stricke;" selections from Herbert and De Koven's latest works, and several dainty arrangements of Sousa's, with that composer's latest march, "Hands Across the Sea," will be performed. A new march, dedicated to the peace jubilee, by Mr. MacLeod, will also be produced for the first time. The soloists will be Mr. Hern-don Morsell, tenor, who will sing "Only tenor, who will sing "Only by Moir, and "Absence;" and One Moreel, tenor, who win sing on, One More," by Moir, and "Absence;" and Mr. Guy Hoppe, a young cornet soloist, who has lately joined the band. Promenade music and dancing will follow the regular program. Tickets and seats may be secured at Sanders & Stayman's music store.

FASHODA AND THE VALLEY OF THE Nille.—Attention is called to the announce-ment in another column of a lecture on this thject, to be delivered tonight in Trinity Surject, to be derivered congine in Trining Parish Hall, corner of 3d street and In-diana avenue, at 8 o'clock. The lecturer, Col. F. F. Hilder, as is well known, has an ntimate personal acquaintance with the the especially interesting at this time, when people are still admiring the skill of Gen. Kitchener. A series of stereopticon views will illustrate the lecture.

THE BIJOU THEATER.—The bill offered at the Bijou this week is unusually attractive. It includes Maestro Arras and Senorita Alice, novelyists: Morril and Newhouse, farceurs; Barry Thompson and Annie Carter, two of Washington's favorites; Waitz and Ardell, burlesquers; Brannan and Collins, comedians; Diana, the well-known dancer, and the house stock company. The program is filled with the names of people who promise well and the house will probably be crowded twice daily. Electric fans have been put in by Manager Grieves, so that the Bijou is now claimed to be the coolest place of amusement in the city.

REV. DR. STAFFORD'S LECTURE .-The lecture on Shakespeare's Julius Ceasar, which Dr. Stafford is to give at the Lafayette Square Opera House on Thursday, May 18, is being anticipated with a great amount of pleasure by that large throng of people who always attend Dr. Stafford's lectures. This play has always been a favorite, and the many different characters will give the eloquent lecturer ample scope for his well-known power of critical analysis, and as there is no play of Shake-speare's in which there are such magnificent orations there will be ample opportunity likewise for his wonderful elocutionary and oratorical abilities, while the finer and more delicate touches of art may be expected in the handling of such beautiful paracters as Brutus and Portia. The sale of seats will commence on the 10th. The proceeds will be given to charity, and the arge house that always hears the doctor will doubtless be present.

As the lynchings in the south are the subeet of discussion now, allow me to say that the reason why they occur is usually given s due to the brutality of the people and their disregard of the rights of the negro. and this is the text for the articles which appear. We submit that while in some ases this may be true, yet in many cases these are not the real reason. The real reason is that the father, brother or husband of the assaulted and outraged woman do not wish her to be subjected to the notorithe trial of the brute charged with the crime. To have one's sister, wife or mother appear in court before the curious gaze of hundreds and submit to a rigid examination and then a vulgar cross-examination, in which the defense does all it can to reflect upon her word and character, is tion, in which the defense does all it can to reflect upon her word and character, is an ordeal from which any woman may well shrink and one to which she should not be subjected. At best she has to live a blasted life with the notoriety attached. Therefore, when the brute is identified, her nearest relatives usually determine that a trial shall not occur, and it is those relatives who usually organize and head the lynching shar not occur, and it is those relatives who usually organize and head the lynching. Realizing these facts, the legislature of Georgia proposes that the testimony of the victim may be taken in private before a commission while confronted by the accused, also that the trial shall take place within ten days.

AFFAIRS IN AGEORGETOWN

West End Citizens Complain of Sunday Liquor Selling in Rosslyn,

Death of Mrs. Cathell, an Aged Resident-Students Repeat Entertainment - General News.

The citizens of Georgetown are complaining of the Sunday opening of the saloons at Rosslyn, Va. It is said they are visited by many people, residents of the District, who ross the bridge in an intoxicated condition and give a bad impression of the West End. The blotter at the police station shows seven arrests for plain drunk yesterday, and one charged with disorderly, all of which are directly traceable to the open Sunday bar at Rosslyn. To those unacquainted with the condition of affairs one would imagine that the liquor was sold in Georgetown. It has been decided by the police to begin an energetic crusade against the drunks who cross the bridge, and to

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS.

Death of Edward Goodfellow, At-Edward Goodfellow, attached to the li-brary of the National Museum, and for many years connected with the United States coast and geodetic survey, was accidentally asphylated in his apartments, No. 2304 14th street northwest, Saturday night. The funeral services took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the remains being taken to Philadelphia, where the interment will be made.

When discovered by his wife Mr. Goodfellow was lying upon his bed, where he had fallen asleep after reading. An open book was by his side. He was unconscious, and Dr. P. G. Smith was summoned. The physician worked hard to resuscitate his patient without success. Mr. Goodfellow dying from the effects of the poisonous gas at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. After reading it is believed Mr. Goodfellow arose and turned off the gas, and, throwing him-self upon the bed, fell asleep. The gas, it is apparent, was not turned entirely off, and, escaping, soon filled the room. For some time past Mr. Goodfellow had

For some time past Mr. Goodfellow had suffered from insomnia, for which his physician had prescribed a sedative. He was evidently unable to sieep Saturday night, for his wife heard him arise early in the morning. He is believed to have taken the usual dose, and then sat down to read until slumber should overtake him. The insomnia was superinduced by a sunstroke, from which the deceased had suffered since the civil war.

which the deceased had suffered since the civil war.

Mr. Goodfellow was born in Philadelphia in 1828, graduating from the University of Pennsylvania in the class of '48. In the following year he was appointed in the coast and geodetic survey, and served in that department until four years ago, when he became connected with the National Museum library. NEW PASTOR IN CHARGE.

Dr. Miller Officiates at Garden Mem rial Presbyterian Church. Rev. Nelson H. Miller, D. D., late pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, Del., whose acceptance of the pastorate of the Garden Memorial Presbyterian Church, Anacostia, was announced in The Star, officiated for the first time at the services yesterday. There was communion at 11 a.m., and in the evening at 8 o'clock Dr. Miller preached the opening sermon of his pastorship, taking as his text Acts x:29, "Therefore I came unto ye without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for; I ask for what intent ye have sent for

Rev. Dr. Miller was born in western Pennsylvania, near Pittsburg. He graduated from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., in 1871, and from the Western Theological Seminary at Allegheny, Pa., in 1874, being ordained on June 9 of the same year by the presbytery of Hunt-ingdon, Pa. His first charge was at Osceola, near Altoona, Pa., where he remained eighteen years and six months. Afterward he went to Newark, staying at the First Presbyterian Church there eight years. During the time he spent in Newark Dr. Miller acted as stated clerk of the New Castle, Del., presbytery. Three years ago he was chosen clerk to the synod of Balti-more, and last fall was re-elected to the position. Dr. Miller, when in Newark, was the chaplain of the Delaware State College and also acted as professor of Greek and Latin in the Newark Academy and State Normal School.

He enlisted in a Pennsylvania cavalry regiment in 1862, when hardly sixteen years of age, and was present at Lee's surrender at Appomattex. Dr. Miller is a member of Joseph McLaren Post, No. 553, G. A. R., of Pennsylvania, but will probably now secure membership in John A. Logan Post, No. 13, membership in John A. Logan Post, No. 10, of Anacostia. He has accepted an invita-tion to deliver an address on Memorial day at the exercises under the auspices of Logan Post.

Both Messrs. Browning and McNamara, the leaders of the respective sides, were highly commended for the able manner in which they discussed the question.

Jacob Franz Dead. Jacob Franz died Saturday afternoon at his residence, No. 813 Des Moines street, Brightwood Park. He was born in Manheim, Germany, in 1842, and at the age of seven came to this country. While a young man he traveled extensively through the western part of the United States and Mexico. About twenty-five years since he came to this city, where he was very successful in business.

For two years he had been in poor health and for three months his condition had been critical. His funeral will take place tomorrow from the Gurley Memorial Pres byterian Church, of which he was a con-sistent member and of which he had been a trustee for several years.

Middleton and A. R. Kelly.

B. Kelly. The opening services were held at 11 clock, the paster, Joseph T. Kelly, officiating. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Byron Sunderland, D.D., pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, who took his text from Psalms xlvii;2, "Beautiful for situation—the joy of the whole earth is Mount Zion—on the sides to the north of the city of the Great King."

Early History. Dr. Sunderland spoke of his coming to Washington in 1853, when there were but three Presbyterian churches in the city, and of how new conditions had brought about changes in the location of the various places of worship. "So I think you did wisely." he continued, "in breaking forth from the old environment and planting this beautiful chapel on one of the eminences of Mount Pleasant. As we look forth in the cloudless spring light of this gracious Christian Sabbath over the great city, how apt for us are these words of exclamation. Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth is Mount Zion. For this, in years to come, is to be your Mount Zion. From this eminence—as David and the daughters of Judah did—you can see the site of the city and the foremost eminences around you. There is the Soldiers' Home, and Prospect Hill, and the gorgeous Capitol view—yonder the Oak Hill cemetery, where the dead are sleeping in the Silent City, with the dark cypress waving above them of how new conditions had brought about with the dark cypress waving above them-and far away the splendid sights of Arling-ton, where the nation's heroes, side by side, lie in their dreamless slumber as the river glides below them. Formal Possession Given.

At the conclusion of the sermon the church was formally turned over to the board of trustees by the naster acting as the chairman of the building committee.

NEW HOUSE OF WORSHIP

George W. Babcock, chairman of the board of trustees of the church, received the keys. The paster then made a statement that it was the desire to raise $3.000 to defray some extra expense incurred in the construction of the building and also to set aside an interest fund. This amount was promptly, subscribed by the congregation in pledges varying from $3 to $100.

The offertory sole was sung by Miss Thompson, the selection being "Hear Ve, Israel." The services were concluded with prayer by Rev. Dr. McKnight.

Afternoon worship was held at $130 of clock. Rev. R. F. Bittinger, paster of the Westminster Church, presided. Addresses were made by Rev. As a S. Fiske, Rev. J. R. Verbrycke, Rev. Wallace Radeliffe, Rev. Charles B. Ramsdell, Rev. George N. Luccock and Mr. B. H. Warner. The closing prayer and benediction was by Rev. A. W. Pitzer.
